Language Translations

Documents can be translated into any language. Printing a document in another language is dependent on the language translation being available in your Formpak system.

Formpak provide translations (purchase and ongoing maintenance fees apply) which enable Safety Data Sheets and hazard labels to be printed in other languages. These are the current language translations available:

|
Arabic (United Arab Emirates)	Korean (South Korea)
Bulgarian (Bulgaria)	Latvian (Latvia)
Chinese (China)	Lithuanian (Lithuania)
Czech (Czech Republic)	Malay (Malaysia)
Croatian (Croatia)	Maltese (Malta)
Danish (Denmark)	Norwegian (Norway)
Dutch (Netherlands)	Polish (Poland)
English (United Kingdom)	Portuguese (Portugal)
Estonian (Estonia)	Romanian (Romania)
Finnish (Finland)	Russian (Russia)
French (France)	Slovak (Slovakian)
Gaelic (Ireland)	Slovenian (Slovenia)
German (Germany)	Spanish (Spain)
Greek (Greece)	Swedish (Sweden)
Hungarian (Hungary)	Thai (Thailand)
Icelandic (Iceland)	Turkish (Turkey)
Indonesian (Indonesia)	Urdu (Pakistan)
Italian (Italy)	Vietnamese (Vietnam)
Japanese (Japan)

Other translations can be made available on request.

The translation import files are compiled using the translations provided by the regulatory bodies and common text, these are professionally translated for Formpak. They are simple to import onto your system.

Adding your own Translations

Customer specific text, for example some document content, properties, property choice fields and property text are not translated. The translation can be easily entered using Enter Translations.
In this case we are going to add a Spanish translation for the property code 'USECANDLE' for the property name. 'Candle'. To find the content by the code, enter the options below and click Search.

Enter the translation for Candles and select YES for Prevent Batch Update (this is to stop the translation being overwritten if a new set of translations is imported for Spanish), click Save.

Please click this link for more information on Entering / Modifying Translations and this link for more information on entering Translations for Property Choice fields.

Mini Tip

If you are looking for an item which has many variants on the name, we have a quick searching tip..

In the example below we are searching for TEST, but we have many variants that include the name TEST and a several page list is displayed. Rather than searching through the list for TEST, click off to the side, it automatically populates the TEST code entered.
